Douglas Admits Responsibility in Pamphlet Text

Douglas Aides Tells Court He Did Not Know Whose Names Were Going On Pamphlet When Unwin Got Body Matter From Him—"Old English Custom"

Admission that he was responsible for the general text of the pamphlet "Bankers' Toodles" was made by George F. Powell, London, Douglas Social Credit expert and technical advisor to the Alberta Social Credit Bank, during his examination by his counsel, Hugh Calhoun Macdonald, K.C., in his trial in supreme court before Mr. Justice W. C. Ives on two charges of defamatory libel.

He denied responsibility for the inclusion of the names of 9 prominent Edmonton citizens in the pamphlet, averring that the copy prepared by him did not contain them. He had no knowledge how the names came to be included in the pamphlet.

Did Not Handle Pamphlet

The accused denied he handled the pamphlet, complete with names, to Joseph Unwin, M.L.A. for Edmonton, and also denied that another pamphlet, "Bankers' Dummies" had been prepared by him. Unwin, who was sentenced Friday morning to three months on similar charges arising out of the publishing of the "Bankers' Toodles" leaflet, had sworn both pamphlets in complete form had been handed to him by Powell for publication.

"Can you suggest to the court, my Unwin, occupying the position he does today, should go into the witness box and lie about you?" asked Mr. Steer in cross-examination of the witness.

"I have not said he does lie," answered the witness. "He is either lying or mistaken. Can you suggest why he should make these mistakes or tell these lies in regard to you, he being in the position he is in today, and you in the position you are in with respect to the party to which he adheres?" asked Mr. Steer.

Witness' Manner Assailed

"I have seldom seen a witness with apparently a more faulty contradictory manner," replied Mr. Powell.

"Is that your only suggestion or reason?" asked Mr. Steer.

"I am merely saying to you that I have rarely heard a witness with a more hazy manner and memory," replied Powell.

Following this dramatic passage between witness and counsel an agonized groan came from the wall of the court, where Frank Reynolds had been seized with a heart attack. For several minutes he sat groaning while spectators and court officials rendered first aid.

He was being carried from the court room when Mr. Justice Ives announced the adjournment until Saturday morning. Mr. Reynolds, a returned soldier living in the Glendridge block, was attended by Dr. Boulanger and quickly revived.

NOT FROM DOUGLAS
Mr. Powell denied the issuance of the pamphlet was a practical application of the advice given by Major C. H. Douglas in his book, "The ABC's of Social Credit."

"I would not hesitate to pillory by name either through the press or through the radio in every way those who refuse assistance," he said.

"I suggest that is exactly what you do when you first advise the bankers to reply to that letter telling them the Bankers' Toodles are again within their powers as given them by the Bankers' Dummies."

Then I suggest you begin to pillory by name those people who refuse to accept my plan," he said.

Going Back Again

The American couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bedaux, who have often been the Windsor hosts, are seen as they arrived at New York from Europe.

Bedaux Pair Sailing Under Assumed Name

MONTREAL, Nov. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jones, whom the Montreal Star "definitely identified" as Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bedaux, sailed yesterday for England on the liner Duchess of Bedford.

Tickets for Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jones and others were purchased only a short time before the liner sailed and steaming booklet authorities said they knew the party only by the name given.

The Star ship news reporter, however, said he "definitely identified" the former as the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, in France who was to have served as adviser to the king on the planned visit to the United States.

Q. You had to prepare it before I was printed. You didn't just dictate orally how it was to be done?"

A. I think the court should know just how this came about. Q. Go ahead, let's have it then.

Q. And this too. You are the one that decided?

Q. Of course, he had them printed, but you started to find out that he prepared them.

Mr. Macdonald: That is what I am getting at. "K" is just the full of a letter to go to the Ottawa government, and some letters and telegrams on the book.

Judge: You are bringing in the contents. I don't want to know anything about the contents.

Mr. Macdonald: He took the material and caused it to be set up. Judge: He prepared the copy from which the proof was made.

Mr. Macdonald: That is correct, is it, Mr. Unwin?

Q. As chairman of the board, I judge.

Mr. Unwin: What I would like the court to get is, that I was accused one day with the information that Mr. Powell would like to put out some pamphlets and wanted me to see him. So I went down and saw Mr. Powell. He said: "You think you could get out these pamphlets?" I said: "Yes, give me the idea of what you want and I will get them out."

POWELL'S POSITION
Q. And what was Mr. Powell's position at that time?

A. I cannot answer that question for that particular moment.

Q. Whatever originally the cause was, that being put in your journal and directed the printers.

A. I would not say alone. I would be inclined to say, yes, I did.

Q. Will you tell us which one you did consult him about?

A. This will be a question of them out directly, and say here it is and have it printed with the idea of what you want and I will get them out.

From whom? A. I would only go to Mr. Powell.

TOOK THEM ALL
Q. Will you swear that you took any one of these to Mr. Powell for his approval?

A. After giving considerable thought to it, I would say I took them all.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Members of the eighth annual Edmonton peace conference, which opened last night, of next week, have chosen a happy hour for their deliberations. They meet while the world is aflame with conflict, and the Japanese are still attacking our unwaveringly taken up by Japan. The greater the danger of war the greater the cause becomes the duty of all peace-loving people to stand together in a falling yet unconquered cause of unity in human affairs.

Recent talk to the large number of women organizations at the conference. That eloquent prophet, John Ruskin, firmly believed that war could be averted, or at least its horrors mitigated, if only the people stood in unison against the forces of the freemasonry men to struggle. There is only one way that they cherish, in this ominous interval, that the peace conference is a sign of the aggressive militarism can dim the hope of democracy in the ultimate victory of peace.

A GENERAL CLEAR-UP

Beside being asked to say whether the Dominion Government has power to disallow provincial legislation, the Supreme Court of Canada will be asked to say whether the Dominion government of a province may receive assent to legislation pending a reference of the bill to the courts. Questions under the second heading have been added to the original submission, at the request of Premier Abernethy, with the expressed approval of Prime Minister King.

The two subjects of inquiry are related, as both deal with the freedom of a legislature to make provincial laws without interference from the federal authority. The question is whether the whole has been broadened to this include the whole matter at issue between Alberta and the federal government. ANOTHER TRADE AGREEMENT

Great Britain is making a trade agreement with the Spanish Insurgents. The bargain does not involve "recognition" of Franco and his associates either as the legitimate government of Spain. What it does recognize is that they are an actual and effective barrier against trade.

The basis of the agreement is that Britain needs iron and perhaps other materials produced in the territory over which the Insurgents have control. The Insurgents, in turn, need iron and perhaps other materials produced in the territory over which the Insurgents have control.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE?

The late parliament of Canada passed what was commonly known as a unemployment insurance act. The measure was ruled out by the Privy Council of the British Empire, and the matter falling properly within the jurisdiction of the provinces. Prime Minister King is now in the position of having to decide whether it is agreeable to an amendment of the British North America Act which would give the Dominion authority to pass such legislation.

will not allow the Dominion to deal with the question. If the Dominion should do the paying, as has been claimed, it obviously should do the controlling.

And conversely, if the Dominion is to control it should do the paying. The proper course would be for the Dominion to tell the Dominion it can have the power to set up the scheme provided it also undertakes to administer the plan at a cost of preventing or relieving unemployment.

LETTING "GEORGE" DO IT

There were approximately 51,000 names on the voters list for the civic election. The total number of votes cast for all majority candidates was 24,778. Of that 24,778, 11,000 were spoiled. Less than half the qualified voters went to the polls. The successful majority candidate received less than 25 per cent of the number of votes which could have been recorded. No candidate got more than that proportion. The total vote was five thousand less than the number of voters.

That is not, from any point of view, a very satisfactory showing. It means that fifty per cent of the voters left it to the other fifty per cent to say who should govern the city during the coming year, and what should be the main objectives of the city council. One out of each voter, in many cases, was not represented, from saying which of the candidates seemed to him or her best suited to fill the vacant offices, and to which of the alternative policies offered by the candidates he or she was in favour.

Of course there were circumstances not entirely of the voters' making. A fresh fall of snow, slippery streets, and the first chill breath of winter provided conditions far from ideal for electing day. These conditions gave a definite advantage to the candidates who were backed with the best organization, with fleets of cars to bring out the voters in strength. There was certainly no lack of candidates to arouse interest in the contest, and no want of widely varied and sharply contrasted platforms, or of issues lending themselves to class appeal. The outcome was by no means a foregone conclusion; it was, in fact, a very close race.

Edmonton people, like Canadians generally, are strong for democracy. But many don't work it very hard in election day.

Your Health

The dietetic treatment for acute and chronic forms of Bright's Disease, or nephritis, is much the same. While the acute form disappears quickly under the proper treatment, the chronic form may be a very serious disorder and often requires prolonged treatment with diet and other measures in order to produce much improvement in the condition of the patient.

In the acute form, the period of dieting is relatively short and it is possible to live on protein-free diet for a time, but the chronic form requires such a long dieting period that it is necessary to give the patient a reasonable amount of protein in order to make up for that lost through the kidneys.

A satisfactory treatment in most cases is the use of tomato juice or orange juice for about five days. If an analysis of the kidney diet at the end of that time shows a decided improvement, the diet may be broken with non-starchy and non-protein diet lasting for about two weeks and then a reasonable amount of protein may be added.

At this stage the patient is allowed lean meat, eggs, and perhaps fish, using about four ounces of the meat at the dinner meal. Analysis should be made every two or three weeks to see if albumin is still showing in the kidney excretion.

Should the initial fast not correct the trouble, it is often advisable to use a milk diet for one or two months, limiting the amount of milk to three or four quarts a day. It is best to use a glass of milk every hour during the day, each glass containing a tablespoon of sugar. If a patient cannot take milk, a glass of Enemal may be taken daily while the milk is being used, taking at least one a day, as the Enemal will provide the necessary bulk for the colon to move of itself.

Strenuous work should be avoided by the patient with chronic nephritis but most patients benefit from a moderate amount of exercise in the form of calisthenics and walking. It is important to keep up a good skin elimination to keep the body free from a few "bad" elements. Showers or sponge baths may be taken daily for this purpose. Cold showers may be used if the patient reacts with a warm glow. It is best to keep on a low-salt diet, and to avoid all stimulants or hyaline casts are present in the urinalysis.

The kidneys should be provided with plenty of water. The patient should be encouraged to drink water. In most cases I do not find it necessary in my practice to limit the amount of water, and the patient should be encouraged to drink water. In most cases I do not find it necessary in my practice to limit the amount of water, and the patient should be encouraged to drink water.

Even after improvement has taken place, the patient should be very careful of his diet. All high-calorie foods should be avoided, and the amount of salt used should be kept to the minimum.

Partially cured patients may live for ten or twenty years after the disease is discovered if they are careful. It is generally possible, if the case is found soon enough, to bring about a permanent cure. The patient should be encouraged to drink water. In most cases I do not find it necessary in my practice to limit the amount of water, and the patient should be encouraged to drink water.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—Bryan: "I know 'It the patient with secondary anemia likely to be under-weight or over-weight?"

ANSWER—The one who has this form of anemia is usually inclined to be overweight, or at least to have a tendency to fatty tissue with a deficiency of good, firm muscular tissue.

QUESTION—A. B. A. "Which is the more adequate undergarment, a line pure silk or rayon? Also, is there any other which is best for the health of the wearer?"

ANSWER—The question of undergarments is considered entirely sanitary providing they are cleaned often enough. As a general rule, those living in elder climates are one must likely to wear wool underwear. The use of rayon or silk may be worn in warmer climates. The color chosen must depend upon the individual taste of the wearer—one color can not be said to be more healthful than another.

QUESTION—Mary writes: "Please repeat the recipe for sweet potatoes on the half shell. Would mine to a neighbor and lost it."

ANSWER: Wash well and bake sweet potatoes. Cut them in two; scoop out the pulp from the skins; mix this with butter, salt and cream; stir in some chopped almonds or pecans (toast) and fill shells with mixture baked.

practices, dress suits should be worn with white tie, whether the evening is to be passed at home or away. The evening dress should be worn at dinner hour. A gentleman in evening dress may go anywhere with propriety.

This is unquestionably the most important factor in transforming a mere guy into a gentleman. Your mere guy will never think of putting on his dress suit until he has possibly got into it. But if he watches the same, and gets himself a dandy at a moderate price, and puts it on every day, he will soon be a gentleman in all that the name implies, which is next to nothing.

There's one thing about dress habits—the man who darts into his garb habitually has an excellent chance of picking up a little something in life. He has only to stand there and there with his hand out and later a role of some consequence will be pressed upon him, whereupon he can cut for home rejoicing and leap into bed.

All this may sound somewhat fanciful, but just ask a gentleman who once was a guy whether he has not been taken into the world of the head water, whose real name is Wilner. Anyhow, it's worth trying.

See you in the Rainbow Room. And you're welcome.

Howell Engages In Spirited Interludes With Counsel

Inclusion Names In Banker Poster Denied By Powell

The back of Exhibit 1 and 2 are the names that are mentioned in this pamphlet. I could not answer that unless I saw it.

Q. You can look at it. Do you find any names that were on one and not on the other?

A. Well, there are names on one and not on the other.

Q. Well, just pick them out. Do all the names that are on Exhibit 2 appear on the article "The Dowry on the higher-ups"?

A. Yes—they are not.

ARTICLE ON DREAM

Q. Do you remember whether or not they appeared in the article published in the Bulletin—Mr. Cooper's dream?

A. They did not appear, because before I had that dream, I consulted Mr. Cooper and it was he who suggested that I put them in the Bulletin. As far as I am concerned, other than that, it is exactly the same.

Q. That will be "B" you are referring to in Exhibit 3. That is all, Lawrence Vernon, China called.

Mr. Stier:

Q. Mr. Cooper is a barrister and solicitor, practicing his profession at Edmonton. I am a law dictionary of the word "barrister" as defined in the Oxford English dictionary. It is a word of English origin, but it is a word that is not in fact to the statement that you occupy that position towards and towards Mr. Cooper.

Q. What have you to say as to the statement of the word "barrister" as defined in the Oxford English dictionary. It is a word of English origin, but it is a word that is not in fact to the statement that you occupy that position towards and towards Mr. Cooper.

A. Well, I would not say that I am a barrister and solicitor, but I am a law dictionary of the word "barrister" as defined in the Oxford English dictionary. It is a word of English origin, but it is a word that is not in fact to the statement that you occupy that position towards and towards Mr. Cooper.

Q. And have some of them been in the public eye, and their reputation is extremely high?

A. Yes, I have seen some of them in the public eye, and their reputation is extremely high.

Their Battles Fought

Untroubled by the grim realities of their nation's war in China, these three charming Japanese men nevertheless have a big interest in the war's outcome. They are the daughters of the Japanese emperor, whose family rules by "divine right." Left to right, the princesses Tokiko and Yori are seen as they returned to Tokyo from a seclusion.

myself and Mr. Baker. Mr. Baker and myself, the most active members of the Board, Mr. Powell, is that what you understand?

Q. Now what have you to do with regard to sending out publications?

A. That was the matter that I was told. Q. And that approval was given by the Board, Mr. Powell? Is that what you understand?

Q. And if you approved of what he suggested to do alone had the right to do it?

A. Yes.

Q. Did Mr. Powell have any authority to give him instructions to do anything or not to do it?

A. No, whatever.

Q. With regard to the payment for any printing done—

A. Yes, that was the work and passed it on to the board, or through Mr. Allnut to the board.

Q. What was Mr. Powell's duties?

A. He came here as a technician, advising the government through the board, and later took the position as temporary commissioner.

Q. Of the government.

Q. He is at the present time in an advisory capacity to the government with respect to legislation that may be proposed.

Q. CLEARLY DEFINED

A. At first that was his position. His position at the present time is clearly defined in the Social Credit Act as temporary commissioner.

Mr. Stier: When you say that Mr. Allnut's position is as outlined in an order in council, is that correct?

A. This is the order in council. That is the order in council.

Q. This is the order in council. That is the order in council.

Q. If you will read on further you will see.

Q. Why didn't you say then it was part of Mr. Allnut's duty to approve payment of same?

A. The question was as to the approval.

Q. Did you wish me to understand that Mr. Allnut did not have anything to do with the approval of this bill for payment?

A. I asked you a plain question, and I am in a position to answer it. I am not in a position to answer it. I am not in a position to answer it.

Q. Why didn't you answer that question?

A. I am not suggesting it now. I am not suggesting it now.

Q. Why didn't you answer that question?

Q. Were you?

A. No.

Q. I suggest it is a fair inference from that answer that Mr. Allnut is the only person who knows. What do you say to that?

A. I say that is a wrong inference.

Q. I see. And you say, do you, that Mr. Powell didn't know anything about this department that was being run by Mr. Allnut?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you know anything about it?

A. I certainly did.

Q. Did you have supervision and control over it?

A. Not as much as I should have.

Q. In the 1937 session of the legislature known as the "insurgent," and you were one of the leading insurgents?

A. Yes.

Q. And then the government passed this act, you have referred to, Chapter 1187, setting up a new department?

A. Yes.

Province of British Columbia,
Department of Labour,
Victoria, November 13, 1937

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

It is desired to bring to the attention of residents of the Prairie Provinces that THERE IS A LARGE SURPLUS OF SKILLED AND UNSKILLED LABOUR IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

In fairness to those who may be encouraged to leave their homes in the belief that employment may be found in British Columbia, this opportunity is taken to warn any person who may not have the means to provide for return transportation that the Government of British Columbia does not accept any responsibility for the provision of the necessities of life to those who have not established domicile in the Province.

GEORGE S. PEARSON,
Minister of Labour.

board known as the social credit board?

A. Yes.
Q. And you and some of your fellow insurgents were made members of that board?

A. That is hardly correct.

WAS AN INSURGENT

Q. There are MacLachlan, Baker, McPherson, Hay and Birt?

A. The board was elected by the legislative assembly.

Q. That is not your point. You were an insurgent?

A. Yes.

Q. And Baker?

A. Definitely never.

Q. And McPherson?

A. I would not say he was.

Q. And Hay?

A. No, I would not say so.

Q. And Birt?

A. More definitely.

Q. The difficulty at that time was the budget. Is that right?

A. Yes.

Q. Then they passed this Act and provision was made in it for what are called technical experts and you were the man selected to go to England to see Major Douglas and get an expert, and you went over and got Mr. Powell and you and Mr. Powell came back to this country on the same ship, and travelled all across Canada together to Alberta, and since then have been working very intimately together in the social credit board?

A. Not in the Board, in the movement.

Q. Mr. Powell spends what hours of the day in the Legislative building?

A. He is there quite a bit of the time.

Q. Are you? A. Yes.

Q. Do you both know everything that is going on? A. No.

Q. Is he the man that carries out the schemes of the Board?

A. The Board's duty is to receive recommendations and pass them on to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. If Mr. Powell, in his capacity as advisor or his duty as commissioner, has recommendations to make, he will make them to the Board, and the Board will then pass them on to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

Q. Did he do so? A. Yes.

Q. He made a great many recommendations which you have passed on?

A. There has been no definite recommendation. We have not passed them. There have been some suggestions we have not considered.

Q. He recommended that letter to the bankers?

A. He recommended that letter to the provincial treasurer.

Q. Who recommended it?

A. It was not the Board.

Q. Did Powell have anything to do with it?

A. You are asking me something which has to do with the provincial treasury.

Q. I think His Lordship will tell you to answer that.

A. Yes, answer it.

Q. Did Powell have anything to do with the letter?

A. I believe Mr. Powell consulted with the provincial treasurer.

Q. Who drafted the letter?

A. I do not know.

Q. The difficulty at that time was the budget. Is that right?

A. Yes.

OLDSMOBILE FOR 1938 NEWLY STYLED

POPULAR SIX, JUST ANNOUNCED, HAS HOOD LINES OF UNBROKEN SIMPLICITY

The Oldsmobile Six for 1938, just announced, continues the stylish front end treatment it pioneered last year. The radiator grille is of new design, while a new type of concealed hood permits smarter fitting of the hood lines. The new car has many mechanical refinements. Above is shown the sedan with trunk.

did he afterwards in the face of your disapproval publish it himself?

A. Yes.

Q. How many?

A. I can't remember definitely with leaflet I disapproved of.

Q. But one, at least?

A. May I answer in my own way. When Mr. Unwin took over his duties at first he more or less came to me and said: What do you think of this and is this all right, and I gave my approval or my suggestion for correction. I remember there was one, I think this is the one on Tax the Banks, which I didn't approve of, and asked that there be corrections made.

Q. That was prior to this leaflet, "bankers' follies"?

A. Yes, much prior.

POWELL CALLED

Mr. Macdonald called Mr. Powell.

Mr. Macdonald: You are at present in the city of Edmonton in connection with the government?

A. Yes.

Q. How do you describe your profession?

A. I call myself a consultant in commercial efficiency.

Q. In what capacity are your services retained by the provincial government?

A. My position is honorary.

Q. No, I mean what are you doing?

A. I am temporary commissioner.

Q. What are your duties?

A. My responsibilities are set out under the Act by which I am appointed.

Q. Where do you come from?

A. I have been in London for the past 10 years.

Q. Were you born in England?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you have a university man?

A. Yes.

Q. What school did you attend prior to going to university?

A. London school.

Q. What was your business experience?

A. Thirty-four years in the rubber industry.

Q. Have you any right to advise, criticize, direct or prohibit Mr. Unwin in any way with respect to anything he may publish or not publish?

A. With regard to prohibiting and instructing, certainly not. With regard to criticizing, on more than any other colleague has a right to criticize.

Q. You saw this mass of pamphlets, set out in exhibit A, this morning?

A. I am sorry, I did not.

Q. I am now showing you exhibit B, set out in exhibit B, this morning. Unwin caused to be published. Do you know anything about them other than the fact that they were published?

A. I know that they reflect on some matters.

Q. No, in the publication? Or in the preparation?

A. No, beyond that some of the things I have said may be reflected here.

POWERS TO DICTATE

Q. Have you any powers to dictate or direct any of the servants or employees of the board or the board itself?

A. No, I have never given an instruction to anybody in the government since I have been here.

Q. Do you consider that you have any power?

A. I know I have not.

Q. Mr. Unwin is connected with the activities of the social credit board? A. Yes.

Q. To your knowledge, how have his activities been directed?

A. He sends out all leaflets and pamphlets and matters which outline or might to outline the policy or activities of the government.

Q. Have you any right to advise, criticize, direct or prohibit Mr. Unwin in any way with respect to anything he may publish or not publish?

Q Did you not see or hear anything of it?

A I did not remember seeing a copy again. I saw what now translates into—there has been a change—about 40—40 seconds—80 seconds or so. I saw it in the same place, after when Mr. Ullwein came up to me and said something equivalent to this has arrived or something of that sort.

Q ARE THERE PARTIES?

A And when was that?

A I looked at it and I said to him, "What are the parties?" And he said that there was no room for that. I saw it in an email. I said he said there was anti room. This

Q Did not understand it was a proof, but it transpires that it seems it was.

A He said that when he got the proof, he allowed to you and you said that that clause would, in the front should be expanded so as to be more prominent. Did you tell him that?

Q Did not.

A Did you make that up out of whole cloth?

Q I don't know what that expansion means, but it is not true.

Q I can testify to the fact that it was not.

Q Did he fabricate that anyway?

Q Did you approve of the enclosure?
A I must have if she uses the stamp.
Q So that is your signature?
SIGNATURE STAMP
A No. That is a rubber stamp of my signature. It is placed on document with my authority, providing that it encloses the leaflets which I had approved of.
Q Did you approve of the leaflet?
A Well, I can't tell which leaflet I went out on. That is a circular letter you know.
Q Those are the enclosures attached to the letter? Did you approve of it?

Q What did that entail?

FOREIGN BUSINESS

A Looking after their foreign business about $20 million dollars a year for eight years. They were out there for somewhere about the equivalent of the world with the exception of Europe, where they had factories.

Q Which company?

A Dangle Rubber company.

Q When did you form your corporation with Major Douglas?

A In 1954.

Q Are you a member of his law retainer?

A Yes, I am a director.

Q Is he interested? A Yes.

Q How? A The Social Credit

Q You suggest to this court, why Unwin, occupying the position which he occupies today, should get into that box and lie about you?

A I have not said he does lie.

OR ELSE MISTAKEN

Q He is either lying or mistaken. Can you suggest why he should make these mistakes? He tells these lies in regard to you, he being in the position he is in, and you in the position you are in with respect to the party to whom he addresses?

A I have seldom seen a witness with apparently a more faulty construction of reality.

Q Is that your only suggestion or reason?

A I am merely saying to you

Mayor Fry Opens Inaugural Meeting of New Council

MERCURY DIPS TO NINE ABOVE IN EDMONTON

Overseas have been dug out of clothes cupboards and arranged in pairs, the milk is climbing out of the bottle every morning, and people waiting for street cars pace up and down stamping their feet. All this indicates that Edmonton has really entered the winter season, and that straw hats are temporarily passe.

Getting down near the zero mark, the lowest temperature up to 9 a.m. Saturday, registered at 3 a.m. and again at 9 a.m., was 9 above. On Friday, the highest reading for the day was registered at 4 in a.m., when the mercury was at 9 above. At 3 p.m. Friday the temperature was 14 above, and the red line fell steadily during the night. Light snow during the night added 20 inches to the snowfall total. At 9 a.m., with snow still falling, the forecast was "cold, with more snow."

In the new snow, snow and low temperatures are the bulk of the weather reports, the lowest reading at 8:30 a.m. Saturday being 2 below zero at Fort St. John. The highest reading at that time was 14 above, at Delavan.

With the sudden drop in temperature, the North Saskatchewan river has started to freeze. Skating was running in the river Friday and Saturday.

Meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Williams on Wednesday, the members of the Calgary Trade Credit Group discussed plans for the fall and winter season. An intensive educational program was outlined and subjects for public relations, including a visit from a member of the government, were discussed. Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in C. O'Connell being chosen as president, J. Sparling, vice-president, Mrs. A. J. Meredith, acting secretary, Mrs. A. J. Meredith.

NEWLY-CHOSEN ALDERMEN ARE ALL SWORN IN

Aim is to Achieve Objectives as Soon as Possible

Mayor Says

Declaring that the aim of the new city council would be to achieve our objectives as rapidly as possible, and hoping that aldermen would give Edmonton a business administration, Mayor John W. Fry opened the inaugural meeting of the new council Saturday afternoon.

At noon, Saturday all newly-elected aldermen had been sworn in by the mayor, and Mayor Fry, excepting Ald. F. C. Casselman and Ald. R. Knott, who were sworn in shortly before their taking of the oath.

Mayor Fry's inaugural speech to the council followed in part:

"My first desire is to express my appreciation of the honor conferred upon me by the city fathers in electing me to the high position of mayor. I trust that the confidence so placed in me will find strength as we proceed to fulfill the duties that have been delegated to me."

Eskimo Settlement Saved Lives Of Mounted Patrol

HUNGRY MEN RAN ACROSS MEAT SUPPLY

Dogs Had Been Put On Short Rations and One Was Slain

OTTAWA, Nov. 12.—A meeting with a group of Eskimos who were well supplied with meat saved an Arctic patrol from starvation in the north.

The patrol, a comparatively small one, covered more than 1,000 miles, travelling south from Pond Inlet on the northwest coast of Baffin Island to Puvionituk on the northeast coast of Melville Peninsula and back to Pond Inlet by a more westerly route touching Admiralty Bay and Eclipse Sound.

HEAVY GOING

On the first few days of the trip deep soft snow made heavy going for the dog team and then came storms which held up progress for two days. Dog feed ran low and the first animals had to be put on short rations.

One dog had to be shot and another carried on a sled. Caribou tracks were noticed, but only two animals were seen and the patrol was unable to bag either. An unsuccessful attempt was made to kill seal for the dogs.

However, after three weeks' travel, when things were looking really black, the patrol reached an Eskimo village camp on a small island in Foxe Basin. Eight Eskimo families were in the camp and they were well supplied with meat, so a quantity was purchased for the dogs.

A little further on another encounter with 18 families was encountered but they had only enough meat for their own use and a number were suffering from cold.

LARGE KILLS

At Puvionituk, a prosperous settlement of 14 families was encountered. They had made large kills of caribou, walrus and seal, had cached the meat for future use and were able to spare some for the least fortunate natives at the camp.

The patrol consisted of acting Lt. Col. J. H. Macdonald, a guide named "Kippon" with two dog teams. They visited the Eskimo settlements in the district to collect vital statistics and game returns.

SOCIAL OFFICERS

BASHAW, Nov. 12.—The Social Credit group held its meeting in the Moose Hall Monday evening when election of officers was held.

Members elected were president, J. D. Wolch, vice-president, Mrs. M. Sturge, secretary-treasurer, J. A. Marshall, M.P., George Smythe, C. E. Webb, while Mr. Wolch acted as chairman.

Industrial arbitration first was employed in the settlement of labor disputes before the French Revolution at Lyons, when controversies arose in the silk industry of France.

Bolder Design in Plymouth

A new Plymouth of bolder design with water steering and a score of new luxury features for the lowest price field is presented as the new Plymouth, marking Plymouth's tenth anniversary.

Even further advances in roadproofing, over last year's model, noted for its "dashless" ride, set new levels of quietness and smoothness to mark Plymouth's first decade of building great cars.

Plymouth's Jubilee car leads its price field for spacious bodies and roomy interior, with ample stretching room for six passengers in all sedan models. The all-steel bodies of safety design are built by the pioneers in this method of construction.

Over-all length of all models is 118 inches, from bumper to bumper. The complete Plymouth line for 1938 includes the Plymouth custom six, Plymouth de luxe six and Plymouth six-all of 118-inch wheelbase with 14-hp. engine of 82 horsepower.

Quadrangle engineering features a new windshield for the sake of better vision. Windshields have more effective glass area, being wider in the vertical plane. As a result, Plymouth has 12 per cent greater visibility this year, making it easier to see traffic lights as well as closer down in front of the car.

Sunset of Sun Yat

Should anyone deplore the statue of one of their heroes, there came Japanese soldiers who take such delight in the ignominious heights of the figure of Sun Yat-sen would be up in arms. But it's far in war, time. The figure of Dr. Sun, founder of the Chinese republic, was blown from its pedestal by the Japanese bombardment of Shanghai's war zone and later captured.

"What am I going to do? As a private citizen, am I creating an atmosphere of friendliness and good will towards those with whom I come in daily contact? If so, that is the best manner to show gratitude."

CITIZENS MUST CREATE PEACE, SAYS SPEAKER

VERGEBVILLE, Nov. 12.—Rememberance Day was fittingly observed by Vergerville citizens who filled the Viny theatre where a community memorial service was held Thursday morning.

In attendance were non-commissioned officers and men of the B.C. M.P. under command of Inspector P. H. Tucker; non-commissioned officers and men of the A.M.R. commanded by Major Fane, which unit also supplied a guard of honor around the Cenotaph; also Girl Guides headed by Captain Fallow, and Boy Scouts directed by Scoutmaster Bennett.

Clergymen taking part in the service were Rev. C. G. Armstrong, United Church; Rev. C. G. Austin, St. Mary's Anglican; Rev. D. F. Strachan, Ukrainian Greek Orthodox; Rev. M. S. Blackburn, Presbyterian.

Address was delivered by Dr. B. C. Cameron, University of Alberta. The speaker urged his hearers not to enquire as to what nations are going to do, but to act themselves.

1938 OLDSMOBILE MODELS LEADERS IN STYLE PARADE

The 1938 models of Oldsmobile, six oldest car in the field, were announced at Ottawa today by General Motors Products of Canada, Limited. Always acknowledged a leader in motorcars style parade, the Oldsmobile for 1938 continues a worthy tradition of beautiful design. Performance has been stepped up still further, and mechanical systems refined for extra miles of trouble-free motor.

Production is well advanced at the company's factories in Regina and Ottawa, and dealers everywhere will soon have models on display.

Among features of particular interest is the new Oldsmobile safety instrument unit and safety dash. A feature in the modern manner from the conventional type of instrument panel. The safety panel, free of projecting knobs, is but one of many details which contribute toward passenger security in the redesigned safety features of the new Oldsmobile. Safety dash, of course, a standard throughout. A change of design, however, is available, tailored to the deep-mouthed lines in an effective "bullet-proof" front.

Belly lines are lower and cleaner than before. Bumpers are actually wide, deeply valanced and of heavier gauge metal than in previous models. "Bullet-type" headlamps are mounted low in the crumple of the front fenders. While the headlamps appear to sit on the crumple, they are actually bolted to the front fenders. Bumpers are actually bolted to the front fenders. Bumpers are actually bolted to the front fenders.

Hotel Burns

HIDSON, Oct. 12, Nov. 12.—Five early today destroyed Hudson's $3000 hotel. Mrs. and daughter in law were asleep in the hotel when the fire alarm was given.

Those who suffered in a great cause, Dr. Cameron said, must be directed by Mrs. Bertha Clements.

Dodge Has 3 New Lines

Description of the three 1938 Dodge passenger car models will make interesting reading to the many followers of this popular make, especially in view of the fact that these three new lines offer 20 body selections in all, as well as incorporate some 40 progressive improvements affecting appearance, comfort and performance. Probably the outstanding improvement is the greater ease of control.

Steering is easier, clutch pedal operation is much easier. Changes in the transmission make gear shifting easier. All these changes make driving a relaxation.

Changes in the suspension system, made on a new type of coil spring and shock absorber, make driving a relaxation. Changes in the suspension system, made on a new type of coil spring and shock absorber, make driving a relaxation.

Sedan and touring sedan models include two and four-door models and a convertible (top convertible series only). There is also a 12-hp. model, the custom 7-passenger sedan.

Changes and improvements disclosed in the 1938 models from their immediate predecessors are found in nearly every part of the new series—in the steering mechanism, clutch, wheels and other components. Quadrangle engineering features such as floating power and other safety features, hydraulic brakes, and a variety of automatic operating features are either retained or used with modification.

Unwin Takes Stand As Witness For Prosecution

Says Discussion On Pamphlets Before Sent To Printers

Friday's court session of the defamatory libel case against George F. Powell, Social Credit leader, to the government, saw both F. W. Unwin and Mr. Powell on the stand. In several instances the recollection of what happened prior to the printing of the "Barren Lands" pamphlet, which was the cause of the action.

As an instance of the evidence given Mr. Unwin told the court that he had been asked by Mr. Powell to print the pamphlet for him. He took the printer's proof and the original of the pamphlet he said, and Mr. Powell asked that the name be changed to "Barren Lands" and that it be sent to the printer to be printed. Mr. Unwin was not quite sure of the exact conversation between himself and Mr. Powell.

The examination continues at 10:30 a.m. today.

Q: Now what else was said at that time? Anything else?

A: Yes, there was something said about the names of the persons on that pamphlet.

Q: There might have been.

LABORING UNDER FORCE

Q: What if anything, we said, that you were under force in answering this question, am I right?

A: Yes, I was under force. I have never seen any of the pamphlets in a predicament like this. I have never seen what has happened in the present movement, and I am under force, and it is very difficult to clear my mind.

Q: Now, Mr. Unwin, in May 1934, your experience in this job, I think, was without force, was it not?

A: Yes, it was without force, but the very best way to emerge from a predicament is to give the best recollection you have in answer to the questions as they are put, without any thought of what the result is going to be.

Q: Now, when will you repeat your question.

Mr. Unwin: My question is whether or not there was any discussion between me and Mr. Powell as to the printing of the names that are on it?

A: Yes, I remember that.

MAYBE DISCUSSION

Q: Maybe there was some discussion. And what was the discussion about?

A: I don't remember that. I don't remember that. I don't remember that.

Q: Now, Mr. Unwin, I beg your pardon, your question is obviously Mr. Powell's attention to the fact that I should be allowed to re-read the Social Credit League's suggestion.

Q: Now, Mr. Unwin, I beg your pardon, your question is obviously Mr. Powell's attention to the fact that I should be allowed to re-read the Social Credit League's suggestion.

LEAGUE WOULD DISTRIBUTE

Q: What do you mean by that?

A: The Social Credit League had contact with groups and having contact they would read a sample of the pamphlet and if they wanted more, they would send me one if they wanted them.

Q: Is that your signature?

A: Yes, that is my signature.

Q: And whose is the other signature?

A: Well, it is Mr. Powell's name, but I do not know whether it is his signature or not. I have never seen his signature.

Q: Mr. McDougall, cross-examination. My friend was just asking you if you had seen the pamphlet on the desk of the legislature. You personally saw nothing.

A: Personally, I knew nothing.

Q: Now, you have made enquiries.

A: Yes, I had to make enquiries.

Q: Who was Mr. Dunham?

A: Mr. Dunham was a stenographer.

Q: Who is Mr. Clark?

A: Mr. Clark was a stenographer.

Q: And what is Mr. Stuart?

A: He is a reporter for the "Lethbridge Herald."

Q: Did this Clark or Stuart come down to your office, to see you?

A: Yes, they came down to my office, to see me.

Q: Now, Mr. Unwin, I called your attention to the fact that there are some slight variations between Exhibit 2 and 18 in these names.

A: Yes.

Q: You will notice with Mr. Lyndhurst, that he is deceased in one as K.C. and not in the other. Do you recall whether those variations were made in yours?

A: No, I made those. Mr. Stuart, lawyer called me up on the phone and asked once when he had been in the legislature, and then I made the change in it.

Q: Well, now, I call your attention to the fact that the name of the deceased was not in the original but was in the copy that was printed by the printer.

A: Yes, I saw that.

Q: And did you tell Mr. Stuart on the telephone to change the name to the deceased?

A: Yes.

NOT MR. POWELL

Q: Now, when somebody called you up on the phone.

A: Yes, it was Mr. Powell.

Q: Now, it was not Mr. Powell.

A: Yes, it was not Mr. Powell.

Q: You were conversing on the preliminary hearing and were asked by Mr. McDougall: What paper, please?

Mr. Unwin: I am referring to page 66—the names question from the bottom of page 66. I might call your attention to that question and answer. Mr. Unwin: I am referring to page 66—the names question from the bottom of page 66. I might call your attention to that question and answer. Mr. Unwin: I am referring to page 66—the names question from the bottom of page 66. I might call your attention to that question and answer.

POWER SERVICE FOR ALBERTA

Aerial View of Calgary Power Company's Ghost Plant

GHOST RIVER PLANT

HERE is the power from which is provided "Canada's Power Service for Edmonton." The Ghost Plant of Calgary Power Company, which was placed in operation in October, 1932.

This site was selected as the most suitable for a major power development in relation to the province's principal centres of population and for the important advantages which it offered in connection with the power lines to be constructed with the province.

Year by year these "Highways" of Power Service are extended over the province, linking up the power lines to serve the power needs of municipalities and industries.

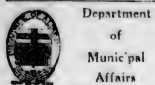

At the heart of the electric nation, this Ghost of Power, with its millions of dollars of modern, intricate equipment, springs forward to serve.

PONTIAC ANNOUNCES NEW MODELS

TWO SERIES FOR 1938

The Pontiac for 1938, just announced, offers two handsome lines of cars, the Luxe and the Special. At the Luxe, above, shows the new hard top feature. Below, a coupe of the Special series, with its distinctive hard top. Both series are equipped with the "Pontiac" hydraulic brakes, which are a new feature. The Luxe is a four-door sedan, while the Special is a two-door coupe. Both cars are available in various colors and finishes. The Pontiac Motor Company is proud to announce these new models, which represent a significant advance in automotive design and engineering.

KINSMEN CLUB OPENS ANNUAL TB. SEAL SALE

Edmonton's annual tuberculosis seal sale campaign, sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of this city, will begin today. The sale of these seals is a vital part of the fight against tuberculosis, a disease that has caused the death of many people. The Kinsmen Club is proud to lead this campaign, and they are asking for the support of all citizens. Each seal represents a dollar that will be used to fund tuberculosis research and treatment. The sale will continue until December 1st. Citizens are encouraged to purchase seals in bulk to receive a discount. The Kinsmen Club is a non-profit organization dedicated to improving the health and well-being of the community. They are grateful for the support of all who contribute to their cause.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

"BEWILDERING BEAKS OF BIRDS"

THE AFRICAN WHALE-HEADED STORK USES HIS HUGE BEAK AS A TRAP FOR CATCHING FISH.

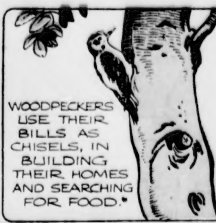

HUMMING BIRDS PROBE TO THE BOTTOM OF FLOWERS AND DRAW UP NECTAR IN THEIR BEAKS.

TOUCANS USE THEIR ENORMOUS BILLS IN REACHING OUT AFTER DISTANT BITS OF FRUIT.

PARROTS AND MACAWS USE THEIR BEAKS AS HANDS, OR EXTRA FEET, IN CLIMBING.

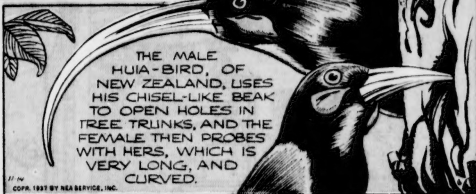

WOODPECKERS USE THEIR BILLS AS CHISELS, IN BUILDING THEIR HOMES AND SEARCHING FOR FOOD.

HORNBILLS, LIKE THE TOUCANS, USE THEIR GREAT HOLLOW BEAKS AS HANDS FOR REACHING.

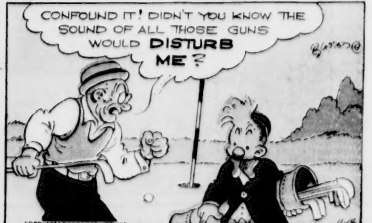

DUE TO THE BEND IN HIS BEAK, THE FLAMINGO MUST TURN HIS HEAD UPSIDE DOWN, AS HE FEEDS FROM THE WATER SURFACE.

THE MALE HUIA-BIRD, OF NEW ZEALAND, USES HIS CHISEL-LIKE BEAK TO OPEN HOLES IN TREE TRUNKS, AND THE FEMALE THEN PROBES WITH HERS, WHICH IS VERY LONG, AND CURVED.
